Resources for Visually Impaired

The following sites have been selected as either "speech friendly", or of interest to the visually impaired. Most are text-based, with a minimum of graphics, suitable for use with speech simulation software. Many of them have larger print. Others provide information on products designed to assist the blind or visually impaired.

Talking Book Program
Texas State Library and Archives Commission

[27]

Talking Book Club [27] provides free library service to Texans of all ages who are unable to read standard print material due to visual, physical, or reading disabilities-whether permanent or temporary. Materials are available in different formats including cassettes, records, and in Braille and large print. Items are delivered right to your door and returned through the mail free of charge. The program offers more than 80,000 titles in fiction and nonfiction, plus 80 national magazines for adults and children. For more information, call toll-free in Texas 1-800-252-9605, or visit their website [27].
